45. STEPHEN KNIGHT CEMETERY

Location: In woods between West Shore Road and Post Office Road. Cemetery currently difficult to reach.
One route behind Pierson home on West Shore Rd. partially blocked by animal paddocks and fences.
2nd route requires reaching a short path behind the Harrison salt storage shed off Post Office Rd.
N 43° 53.416' W 69° 43.286'

1. Stephen Knight D. Dec. 13,1850 Age 66 Y
2. Stephen Knight D Aug. 31,1887 Age 64 Y 5 M

Note: 1. Cemetery plot is much larger than initially recognized. Plot overshadowed by an extremely large Ash tree which had dropped 2 very large and heavy branches onto plot in the 15 years since initial 1994 visit and recording of cemetery. It wasn't until the 2009 restoration that the branches were sawed and removed and actual size of cemetery recognized. Both Knight stones were down. Remaining section of a wooden fence led to discovery of iron boundary stakes marking a very large cemetery. When plant growth was removed, a number of graves were revealed, indicated by depressions and head and foot fields stones.. The tree is well within cemetery boundaries , has been damaged and is dying, and is too large for restoration crew to safely cut down and remove. This situation forecasts a continued erosion of the cemetery.

2. The senior Stephen Knight is a veteran of the War of 1812. He was a member of Capt. Samuel Tarbox's Company, Lieut, Col. E. Cutter's Regiment , from Sept. 10 to Sept. 18, 1814 , serving at Squam Island and Edgecomb.

46. TYLER – WHITTEN – FREEMAN CEMETERY

Location: West Shore Road. Opposite the entrance to Back Door Road is a stone wall that marks the western boundary of the Tarbox Heirs tree farm. An old wood road parallels the wall.
The wall makes a sharp jog to the right. The cemetery is on a knoll to the north of the wall.
43° 53.265' 69° 43.326'

This cemetery is rather unique and requires a foreword before listing the stones. Ralph Brooks, a Westport resident at the turn of the 19th to the 20th century, compiled an early listing of the island's cemeteries. He stated that this cemetery was where visitors to Westport that died on the island were buried. . Based on his visit to the cemetery, he wrote that there were a number of stones down and bones were in evidence. When members of the cemetery committee initially visited the cemetery in 1994, the area was covered with ground cover, including junipers and numerous trees. The only gravestone was surrounded with wire fencing. …

Whtten Family Memorial - inscribed on 2 sides

Side 1.	George W. Whitten	1828 – 1889
	Amy, his wife	1838 – 1921
	Sarah	1863 – 1888
Side 2.	Geneva M.	1870 – 1894
	George A.	1872 – 1920
	Grandson Baby Ned	1884 - 1885

In the early 1990's., the property owner began to clean up the area about the Whitten stone and found that the wire fencing surrounded a far larger area than the one stone. It had fallen and was hidden by the heavy ground cover. There was over 50 ft. that circled a large area. When the wire was coiled up and the ground cover removed as well as numerous trees, a number of sunken graves and a wide crescent of head and foot field stones were found . A small broken head stone occupied one of the curved line of graves. It was inscribed :

Bethiah
B Jul 27, 1830 D Jan 6, 1833
Aged 2 yrs 6 mos

Probing toward the center of the area that the fencing had encircled uncovered a large memorial stone that had fallen and been covered by years of leaves and ground cover.

Esther C.
Wife of Samuel Freeman
Died May 30, 1859

It would appear that the badly sunken graves by the Whitten stone are those named on the family memorial. The crescent of head and foot field stones are undoubtedly Tyler family graves. Early cemetery records listed a number of Tyler Family members who were probably buried in this cemetery. and are listed. below..

48. WILLIS - HARRINGTON CEMETERY

Location: West Shore Road. Take Willis Point Road to the entrance to large field/pasture.
Cross the field to where there is a large fieldstone by the edge of a deep gully. Field stone supposedly marks approximate location of original cemetery before it gradually collapsed into an ever deepening gully caused by the runoff of water from the higher elevated fields of the Tarbox Covelly Farm. 43° 52.983' 69° 43.417'

The following family data consists of names and dates concerning family members who may have been buried in this location inasmuch as their homes , now gone, were in the general area. Since the early 1900's., the Tarbox family , when mowing the field, has left a wide un-mowed area around the stone and the edge of the now deep and overgrown gully..
